 RIDGEBACK

QUALITY BICYCLES SINCE 1983

Kids Bicycles

Riding bikes is fun. Who didn't enjoy riding around when they were younger? Whether that was pedalling around the woods, around the estate where you lived, or on holiday with family. Cycling as a kid is the first step to enjoying a life on two wheels, but just because kids have fun riding bikes doesn't mean the bikes themselves should be toys.

Ridgeback doesn't build toy bikes for children, we build bikes that are designed to last and be handed down as they're outgrown. As ready to tackle the third or fourth child that rides them as they were the first. They can be dropped, bashed about and bruised and they'll be back and ready to be ridden the next day. We want kids to fall in love with cycling, from the first time they wobble along on a balance bike to when they start pedalling along on their own.

One thing we feel passionate about is balance bikes over stabilisers. We've helped countless children learn to ride over the years and really believe in the value of learning to balance as early on as possible. We think that it's the most effective method when teaching your child to ride a bike.

Our range for kids covers everything from that first balance bike all the way up to pre-adult with 26" wheels that give them their first taste of a full-size bike. With sturdy alloy frames and well thought out components, the range is designed for fun and durability – perfect for children to enjoy and parents to have peace of mind.
